PREFACE

"VOLUME I" of the Marvyn Scudder Manual of Extinct or Obsolete Companies has taken a very prominent and useful place in the field of financial publications as a ready reference to thousands of companies which have been reorganized, merged, liquidated, dissolved, or which have forfeited their charters for failure to pay State taxes, etc.

"VOLUME II" was inevitable. Our clients from all parts of the country sent in requests for information on companies not found in "Volume I". Reports on these accumulated until we had data on approximately 85,000 corporations. In order to satisfy our clients' demand for a more complete service on obsolete corporations "Volume II" was published and sent to all parts of the world.

"VOLUME III" is in our opinion the most important of the three volumes for the following reasons:

1. It contains reports on hundreds of companies that are out of existence, whose securities have some salvage values, which are classified as follows: Liquidating, Decree, Reorganization, Exchange, Speculative or Nuisance value.
2. Information has been gathered not only on companies from every State in the United States, but from almost every country on Earth.

The data and reports contained in this Manual were compiled from the records of the Marvyn Scudder Financial Library, the largest of its kind in the world, located at Columbia University in the City of New York; and through investigations for our clients.

We do not pretend, however, to be able to give a complete list of obsolete or extinct companies in our three volumes, but do believe we have most of the companies whose securities were widely distributed. For this reason, our records are at the disposal of our clients for reports on companies not found in our Manuals. This service is rendered at a moderate fee. Our appraisals—in report and affidavit form—are generally accepted for tax purposes, and we earnestly suggest that our clients avail themselves of this privilege, for we will not only save them time and expense but will render a most efficient service.

The company, we understand, operated with moderate success for a year or so, but difficulties again arose over patent infringements and active operations were ceased early in 1926. Company subsequently went into liquidation and we are told that it cannot be completed until a decision is rendered regarding contingent liabilities, which are said not to have been adjusted. It is our impression, however, that the stockholders' equity is not large, if there is any at all.

In December, 1920, the company acquired the business of the Indian Packing Corporation and increased the capital to 1,200,000 shares, (par $10) of which 767,000 shares ($7,670,000) have been issued and are reserved to provide for the conversion of $1,850,000 first mortgage, 8 per cent bonds, due serially, 1926-30 and the balance is 248,000 shares ($2,480,000) available to be issued as required for general corporate purposes. The company in 1921 made a mortgage to Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago (Trustee to secure this issue of $1,850,000 first mortgage 8 per cent. 12 year convertible S.F. Gold Bonds, to be dated June 1, 1921 but redeemed after June 1, 1925 at 107½ and interest on 3 days notice. Annual Sinking Fund of $200,0000, was used to retire the bonds at 107½ and interest each year from 1925 to 1932, thus more than 85 per cent. of the issue will be redeemed before maturity. These bonds are convertible after January 1, 1922 into common stock, par for par. These bonds were issued $1,325,000 to fund a like amount of Indian Packing Company obligations and $525,000 to provide a like amount of cash working capital. will be sold or leased. The last balance sheet (available) of company as of January 15, 1921, after giving effect to this financing, shows current assets of $4,525,569.86 against current liabilities of $2,006,540.56. It has been stated that on April 30, 1921, these current liabilities were reduced by approximately $700,000. Interest payable on mortgage bonds, semi-annually June 1, and December 1, in Chicago at the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank and in New York at the Guarantee Trust Company of New York without deduction for normal Federal taxes, now or hereafter deductible at the source not in excess of 25 per cent. These bonds are in coupon form in $1,000, $500 and $100 denominations and are registerable as to principal. They are redeemable at the option of the company after June 1, 1925, at 107½ and interest on 30 days published notice. These bonds, in the opinion of the counsel, constitute a direct obligation of the company and are secured by a first closed mortgage on all the company's properties, valued by the American Appraisal Company and the Federal Appraisal Company in excess of $3,000,000. Properties include plants at Green Bay, Wisconsin, Providence, Rhode Island and Chicago, Illinois. Officers of company as follows: C. E. Martin, president; Meyer Katz, vice president; J. M. Clair, vice president; A. C. Tolde, secretary and treasurer. The foregoing and N. J. Muller as directors. Halsted Street, Chicago, on June 24, 1927, to consider condition of the company, sale of property and assets as authorized by the directors payment of company's debts, the cessation of the company's activities, etc. Regular meeting of stockholders third Monday in January and no provision will probably be made for the capital stock and mortgage bonds until after this meeting. The company has been out of business since July 1, 1927. Some time ago all of the property was sold in various parcels. Distributions made to the bondholders were as follows: I. $77.83 per $1,000 par amount from the sale of the Providence, Rhode Island, plant. Acorn Petroleum Corporation. Company was incorporated under the laws of Delaware and this charter was declared null and void in 1925, at which time two years' taxes remained unpaid. The Title Guarantee and Trust Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma (now the First Trust & Savings Bank), was the trustee for the debenture indenture dated July 1, 1921. The face of the debenture expressly discloses that they are unsecured. The language is as follows: "No properties have been transferred to the trustee as security, but all of said debentures are issued by the Acorn Petroleum Corporation under and subject to a certain indenture bearing even date herewith, between the said Acorn Petroleum Corporation and said Title Guarantee and Trust Company, the original of which said indenture has been deposited with and held by the trustee, to which indenture reference is hereby made, for a statement of the rights of the holders of said debentures, the terms and conditions under which said debentures are issued and upon which the same may be paid or retired and the restrictions on the company as to mortgaging the property." The indenture itself transfers no property to the trustee. The indenture makes no provision for a sinking fund. The indenture provides that upon default in payment the trustee shall, upon the written request of 33 1/3 per cent. of the bondholders, if such default shall have been in existence for sixty days, give notice thereof to the company. No such request of the bondholders has been made. The company did not furnish the trustee with money to take care of coupons, subsequent to January 1, 1922. It is reported that the company became defunct about 1923 and the debentures and capital stock have been considered worthless for some years. From the foregoing it would seem that the debenture issue amounted to nothing more than an issue of unsecured notes of the company, that the company is now out of business and that the debentures are worthless. No property was conveyed to the trustee, no provision made for the establishment of a sinking fund and the payment of the debentures rested solely upon the integrity and capacity of the company, which failed and went out of business. The stock sold at auction as follows: December 15, 1923, 110 shares at $11 the lot, December 12, 1925, 1,110 shares at $4 the lot. We consider the debentures and capital stock of no value.

Par of both classes $10 (the par of the common was increased from $1 March 3, 1921, one share of new stock being exchanged for two shares of old stock). The Class "A" common was created March 3, 1921, and entitled to cumulative dividends at the rate of 10 per cent. before any payment could be paid on common. Company had no funded debt. Dividends were paid quarterly January, April, July and October 15, in 1919, at the rate of 10 per cent.; January 15, 1920, 2 per cent., and none since. In March, 1921, stockholders were requested to subscribe 2½ per cent. of the par value of their present holdings in cash, for which the company's note bearing 8 per cent. and payable in one year would be given. These notes were to be convertible at the end of the period into bonds or notes of the company. The entire outstanding capital stock of the following companies was owned by the Allied Oil Corporation: Consumers Gas & Fuel Company of Texas, San Jacinto Petroleum Corp. of Delaware, Dalsa Oil Company of Texas, Alm & Petroleum Corp. of Delaware, and the North Texas Gas Transportation Company. Through these subsidiaries the corporation owned approximately 20,000 acres of oil and gas leases in Eastland Jack, Palo Pinto, Parker Shackelford, Stephens, Wichita, Wise & Young Counties, Texas; and in Caddo Parish, Louisiana, on which about $2,000,000 has been expended in equipment and development. Aluminum Chlorine Oil Refining Corporation. Company was organized May 1, 1926, under the laws of Delaware and owns the exclusive rights to the use of the Wohlers & Carl, and Carl-Austin Processes for the manufacture of Anlydrous Aluminum Chloride, the decomposition of petroleum oils into gasoline and kerosene and the refining of other petroleum products by the use of aluminum chloride and also recovery of aluminum chloride for re-use from the sludge produced in the operations. The capital stock authorized and outstanding amounts to $1,000,000 divided into $250,000 Preferred and $750,000 Common, of which $172,200 Preferred and $246,000 Commin is held in the treasury. Par value of both classes of stock $10 each. No dividends paid. The officers are as follows: W. W. Sherman, president; Byron E. Carl, vice-president; William M. Hoag, treasurer; Harold Lundberg, secretary. The present office of the company is at 120 Liberty Street, New York, N. Y., room 604. On March 25, 1925, Byron E. Carl contributed $1,000 for development purposes, and thereafter additional funds were advanced in small amounts by Mr. Carl and associates. During the period covered from March 25, 1925 to September 15, 1927, inclusive, the total funds so advanced amounted to $15,987.08 and the expenses $13,528.19, leaving a cash balance of $2,368.89 which we are told is on deposit with the Westfield Trust Company of Westfield, New Jersey. All of the Common stock was issued for money advanced for development purposes, patents, etc., and the Preferred stock was issued for cash. At the present time the Preferred is being offered at par with a bonus of two shares of Common. On August 2, 1927, company made a contract with the Doherty interests of 60 Wall Street, New York City, for the development of its process by the terms of which the Aluminum Chloride Oil Refining Corporation is to be paid a royalty of 5 per cent. on the use of its process by the Doherty, Gulf Oil, and Sinclair interests and a 50 per cent. royalty outside of these interests. Mr. Carl advises that the Doherty people made a complete search and investigation of this corporation's patents and process after which they entered into the agreement of August 2, 1927. Mr. Carl appears to be sincere and appears to be perfectly willing to answer any inquiries directed in regard to the company. None of the officers or directors receive any cash compensation for service, excepting Mr. Carl, who we are informed receives a salary of $75 a week. In conclusion, we would state that, provided the Doherty interests develop this company's process to a successful conclusion in a commercial way, the possibilities of the company are practically unlimited, but the process is a technical one upon which it is hard to form a definite opinion at the present time.

Alunite Chemical Corporation, Ltd. Formerly the San Juan Mining & Manufacturing Company of Victor, B. C. as offices in Victoria, B. C., and Esquimalt, B. C. Company is not in active operation. We understand the company is capitalized at $1,000,000, par value $1 each share. There has, we are informed, been considerable development work done on the property, but owing to lack of funds no further work has been done for several years. The holdings of the company consist of Alunite (fertilizer) and copper claims. There is a mortgage of about $20,000 on the whole property. Shares have no market value at present. It is hoped that a sale of the property will be consummated within a few months. In this event all stockholders will be duly notified. This company is in a dormant state and unless some activity is shown it is quite probable that the property will eventually pass into the possession of the mortgagees. Amalgamated Properties, Inc. Organized under the laws of the State of Delaware about 1908, as an amalgamation of about 40 different mining and oil companies which were promoted by Douglas Lacy & Company of New York. The Amalgamated Company had a capitalization of $15,000,000 consisting of 15,000,000 shares of $1 par value each; full paid and non-assessable and divided into 5,000,000 shares of preferred stock, entitled to a priority in the earnings of 6 per cent. annual interest and 10,000,000 shares common stock. It was reported that the Amalgamated Properties, Inc., were working with the object of liquidating by sale, bond or lease of the various properties and that they had, in a measure, a fair degree of success. In these cases distributions were made to shareholders as far as the amounts realized from the sale would permit. It is logical to assume that the most valuable of the properties would be sold first, and that further distributions would probably be of a lesser amount. Company reported an office in New York at 77 Broad Street, up to 1911, which was subsequently abandoned as no further record can be found. Frank S. Roseborough, was reported president at this time. There have never been many quotations of this company's stock and none have been reported in recent years. As Douglas Lacy & Company had a share of management in the new company and in view of the fact that their reputation in various stock selling promotions is of a doubtful nature, we do not consider this company's preferred and common stock to be of any value. (See Marvyn Scudder Manual, Volume II "Douglas Lacy & Company.")

Hatfield, president; Hugh M. Clark, treasurer; John N. Luff, secretary. Office: 127 Madison Avenue, New York City. Remarks: Company was a cooperative project to secure stamps for American collectors at reduced prices and to share in the profits of the business. Earnings in the first 6 months provided for 10 per cent. per annum dividends. About 1900, took over business of the Scott Stamps & Coin Company, New York City, and of the New England Stamp Company, Boston. Dividends were paid regularly until April 1, 1904, and none were paid thereafter. On August 20, 1928, at a special meeting of the stockholders at the company's office in Jersey City, N. J., the dissolution of the company was unanimously voted upon and subsequently formally dissolved in September, 1928. The assets of the company were distributed as follows: (1) To holders of preferred stock, in payment of cumulative dividends thereon in arrears since April 1, 1904, to June 30, 1928, 24 years and 4 months, at 6 per cent. per annum—per share, $145.50. (2) To holders of preferred and common stock, pro rata at 103.36 per cent. of the respective par value of the share, i.e.: Per share of preferred stock, $103.36; plus dividends as above, $145.50; total per share of preferred stock, $248.86; per share of common stock, $1.03. Payment to the stockholders on the foregoing basis will take the entire assets of the company and there will be no further payment of any kind. In order to receive such payment, stockholders must send in their certificates of stock endorsed in blank. Upon receipt by the company of the certificate endorsed in blank by the person in whose name the certificate stands, a check will be issued and mailed for the amount due on the foregoing basis of final payment and liquidation. If the person in whose name the certificate stands is dead, the certificate should be endorsed in the name of the deceased by the legal representatives of the estate, and certified copies enclosed of the letters of administration and of the will, if any. Your local attorney or bank will doubtless aid you in procuring the necessary documents. Payment cannot be made by the company under such circumstances, except upon due proof of the persons entitled to receive the funds and presentation of New Jersey transfer inheritance tax waiver. If the certificate has been lost, the necessary arrangement can be made by which stockholders can still obtain payment, upon communicating the facts to the undersigned. It is to your interest to act promptly. Send in your certificate endorsed in blank and address any communication to American Collectors Company, c/o Hugh M. Clark, secretary-treasurer, 1 West 47th Street, New York City.

American Nickel Company. Back in the early eighties there was organized under the laws of the State of California the Nevada Nickel Company, having mines located at Churchill County, Nevada. Organized by parties residing in Nevada and California. These persons spent about $30,000 or $40,000, which they mostly borrowed from the California State Bank of Sacramento. The company had a capital stock of $100,000 and when the California bank grew tired of carrying the loans arrangements were made whereby a new company was organized. The title of this company was the National Nickel Company, which was formed under the laws of Illinois on August 27, 1886, with an authorized capital stock of $5,000,000, par $10 each. This company, through the efforts of its largest stockholder, John Leighton, endeavored in various ways to dispose of or operate the property, but met with little success and on June 2, 1902, the American Nickel Company was organized under the laws of South Dakota as a reorganization of the National Nickel Company. The purpose of the company was to mine and smelt nickel ore, produce refined nickel, nickel matte, nickel salts and by-products. The London and Townsite were patented and the others were held by location. Capital stock: Authorized, $5,000,000; outstanding, $4,946,320; par, $10. Stock of one class, full-paid and non-assessable. No dividends paid. Market for stock (New York Curb): 1906—high, 2; low, ½; 1907—high, 1¼; low, ¼; 1908—high, 1; low, ⅜; 1909—high, 1; low, ½; 1910—220 shares at $16 the lot. On July 19, 1913, 1,100 shares sold at 20 cents per share and on July 21, 1913, 3,000 shares at about the same figure, and on September 23, 1922, 200 shares sold at auction for $8 the lot. Property has been idle for years and no information as to financial condition has been reported. Officers (old): Henry Peterson, president; John Leighton, vice-president (deceased); Henry L. Steitz, secretary. Directors (old): John Leighton (deceased), Henry Peterson, Henry C. Dater, Geo. E. Bradford, Ira H. Morris. Office (old): 66 Broadway, New York City. This property, which has been idle for years, has been promoted under various titles since the early eighties. There was a small floating debt due the secretary and one of the directors of the company. No salaries were paid except to a caretaker so that the expenses of the company were only nominal. The property has been examined many times by expert engineers and metallurgists and the reports of these experts have, in the majority of cases, been favorable in regard to amount of nickel ore at the property. On June 5, 1913, the regular stockholders' meeting of the American Nickel Company was held to consider the most feasible plan for installing a new matte smelting furnace for the reduction of ores, resuming operations at the mine and for the transaction of such other business that might come before the meeting. The cost of this furnace was estimated at $4,000 to $5,000 and the company believed a profit could be made with this equipment installed. From time to time stockholders having control of the capital stock endeavored to sell such control to various syndicates and individuals, with little success.

Back in 1912 it was stated that the company lacked working capital, which had been the situation for years. The South Dakota charter of this company expired by limitation in 1922 and not having been renewed the company has had no legal standing since. When the magazine was published under its new name it was noticed that a number of leading New York concerns along certain lines, such as Park & Tilford, Tiffany & Co. and others had a lot of advertising space, for which, it was later disclosed, they had not contracted for and for which they had no intention of paying. This, of course, misrepresented the magazine to be a substantial and well managed publication and with many eloquent letters concerning the future of the company written by Mr. Ostrander, he was able to sell his stock for $100 each share. American Telegraph Typewriter Company. Incorporated under the laws of the state of Delaware on August 13, 1907, for the purpose of manufacturing and selling a device by which a copy written on one typewriter is simultaneously reproduced on one or more other typewriters by means of electricity, at any distance. Capital stock consisted of $10,000,000, par value originally $100, reduced to $10. The American Telegraph Typewriter was advertised as the "Greatest Electrical Invention of the Century." Bevesch & Beach of No. 27 William Street, Manhattan, acted as fiscal agents for the company and upon complaints of several stockholders the United States District Attorney brought the matter before the Federal Grand Jury on a charge of "using the mails to defraud." It was stated that up to the time Benesch & Beach became the company's promoters the stock had a par value of $100. It was then alleged by the federal authorities, who had investigated the company's affairs, that the par value was reduced to $10 so that a readier market might be found. We understand the stock decreased in market value to $5 and then to 50c. The officers of the company were Dr. George A. Caldwell, president and inventor of the device; George S. McAlpin, vice-president and member of the New York Stock Exchange; Hector C. Adam and William H. Eckhart, secretaries. An advisory committee comprised of Admiral P. F. Harrington of the United States Navy, retired; Elmer P. Morris, and Commander Albert Mority, United States Navy, retired. It was reported that some of the officers joined in the federal authorities' efforts to learn all about the company's affairs. It was said that the price the stock had decreased to was absurdly low considering the merits of the invention set forth in the advertising literature. Installations for experimental purposes had been heralded abroad as actual orders, it was said. Loren D. Wells, electrical superintendent of the Long Island Railroad, held as much stock in the company as Dr. Caldwell himself and had two of the instruments installed on the Long Island Railroad system to be tried. This, in the advertising literature, was made a strong feature. The literature also asserted that machines had been ordered by the Interborough, Pennsylvania, New York Central and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company and also by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. The only actual order, it was said, which the company ever received was for 5,000 of its machines from the Interurban Telegraph News Company of Philadelphia but which company the government intended to show was a subsidiary of the American Telegraph & Typewriter Company and that the latter, even if the orders were genuine never had a factory big enough to build them. It was said that only seven machines had ever been made of which, the federal authorities learned, only two had been sold and both of these failed to work properly and were returned. The machine, no doubt, had its merits, but did not reach perfection—and the fraudulent stock promotion of Benesch & Beach, with the failure of the machine to operate, put the company under a cloud. In March, 1915, Dr. Caldwell, A. E. Benesch and E. T. Beach were found guilty of using the mails to defraud, in connection with the sale of stock of the American Telegraph Typewriter Company and were subsequently fined in June the sums of $2,000, $1,250 and $750 respectively. In August, 1916, it was reported, in answer to an investor's inquiry, that the former management had been ousted and much of the floating stock had been bought by newer interests who believed the stock to be worth more than $1 a share, which was bid in August, 1916. For the years after the trial and conviction of the promoters the business was carried on and financed by George S. McAlpin. He asked no one to buy stock and it was said that he did not intend to offer any additional stock until the enterprise had been established on an earning basis. Dr. Caldwell was said at this time to be working on a No. "3" machine for railway use. Ten complete sets were said to be in operation on the New York Central between the Grand Central Terminal and Buffalo, an ordinary duplex Morse wire used, and the Eastman Kodak factory at Rochester had put in machines for inter-departmental communications, according to reports. In 1919 an office was reported at 251 West 19th Street, but additional information was unobtainable. On May 9, 1925, A. H. Muller sold 325 shares at $44 the lot. T. L. McDonald of New York was interested in the stock in June, 1927. The Delaware charter became inoperative and void on April 1, 1928, for non-payment of taxes.

American Tire Corporation. Organized under the laws of Delaware about 1919-1920 and is reported to have purchased all of the machinery, business, good-will, etc., of the American Rubber Products Co. The authorized capital stock was comprised of $500,000 8 per cent. preferred stock and $5,000,000 common stock, par $10. There were $250,000 bonds outstanding. Business was the manufacture of blow-out proof tires, hose and non-stretching belting and straps. Company had a factory at Niles, Ohio, and an office in the Illuminating Building, Cleveland, Ohio. The following were the officers: F. E. Turrell, president; G. S. Patterson, vice-president; H. P. Ball, secretary; H. H. Bell, treasurer. Attorneys for the company were Geutsch, Rawson, Smith, Kavanagh & Carpenter, Cleveland, Ohio. In September, 1919, the $5,000,000 common stock, par $10, was offered for sale at par by the Durell Gregory & Company of New York and subsequently offerings were made by E. Morton Hetzel & Company, of New York and S. T. Greenfields & Company, Inc., of New York, and others. The American Tire Corporation common stock offered in 1919-1920 at $10 a share sold down to 40 cents a share by the end of 1921 and in 1924 it was offered at 25 cents a share with no bids. In connection with the sale of this stock Durell Gregory & Company were indicted in May, 1921, and were requested to produce their books in court. The whole promotion was described in the press at the time as a swindle and in 1925 the company's Delaware charter was repealed for non-payment of taxes. Company was finally placed in the hands of a receiver who sold the assets, after which there was still a deficiency judgment of almost $3,000. The stock was wiped out and has no present value. There is no evidence to show that this company was reorganized through re-incorporation or otherwise and Cleveland bankers advise that they have charged off to worthless assets a small block of this stock held in trust for one of their clients. Charter forfeited January 20, 1928, for non-payment of taxes.

Anchor Film Company. This company was originally started by a Mr. Smith Cox, of Freeport, N. Y., who invested between $15,000 and $20,000 in the company. The company took a picture in California called "Hell Hath No Fury", and it was the intention to lease this film to the various moving picture houses. In the meantime, Mr. Cox succeeded in interesting a Mr. Grossman of New York in the company who was to invest some money, and in return to manage the company and share in its profits. Instead of using the money to further the company's interests, he stored the company's film and used the money for other purposes. Mr. Cox has instituted proceedings against Mr. Grossman. As the company's film has been in storage for such a long time, it is probably of no value at this time, and as Mr. Cox has the controlling interest in the company, should anything be recovered, there will probably not even be enough to cover Mr. Cox's claim. It would appear, therefore, that there will be nothing left for the remaining stockholders and that no value attaches to the shares.

From all indications the company has experienced the setbacks that all of the rubber companies have felt, and it would seem that Archer is hardly in a position to absorb heavy losses without serious damages to the prospects of the stockholders." Arizona Amalgamated Copper Company, The. This company was incorporated under the laws of Maine in 1907, with a capital of $15,000,000 divided into 3,000,000 full paid and non-assessable common (ordinary) shares of $5 each, 1,350,000 shares issued in part payment of properties and 1,650,000 shares in the treasury of the company for the provision of working capital, construction, etc. The company was formed to carry out an amalgamation of the following properties, all of which are situated in the Clifton-Morence copper district in Arizona, viz: The Leszynsky Group, Bertrand Copper Company, Stevens Copper Company, The Copper Plate Company, Bonanza Group Copper Mines, Celtic Group Copper Mines, The Monte Cristo Group Copper Mines, the Keystone & Merritt Group Copper Mines and the Corona Group. The Principal Arizona Copper Company, the Detroit Copper Company (Phelps, Dodge & Company) and the Shannot Copper Company were reported the principal producing companies. The aforementioned companies had previously monopolized the district having had command of the transportation and reduction facilities which made it impossible for the small and independent mines to produce copper without great disadvantage. It was hoped by the amalgamation that this state of affairs would disappear and establish a foundation for a business of great magnitude and profit-making capacity. This outlook was evidently a little too sanguine, for in November of the same year, the company was reorganized and name changed to the Copper Company of Arizona, incorporated in Arizona with a capitalization of $1,000,000; shares $5 par. Company subsequently reorganized in the same year (1907) as the Cop-permines Company of Arizona, which was reported dead in 1910. Reorganized into the Arizona Morenci Copper Company on November 22, 1909, with a capitalization of $10,000,000; shares $5 par in $5,000,000 preferred and $5,000,000 common stock. In September, 1912, it was reported that company had deeded its properties back to its original owners, and was then out of business, the original owners having organized the Arizona Celtic Copper Company. The officers and directors of the Arizona Amalgamated Copper Company were as follows: Thomas P. Taylor, president; Charles M. Shannon, vice-president; Alvah Trowbridge, treasurer; Fred E. Rittman, secretary. Warren Gilellen, Charles M. Shannon, Alvah Trowbridge, Thomas P. Taylor, George E. Armstrong, L. E. Warren, Leonard F. Requa, Fred E. Rittman, with company offices in Lords Cort Building, 27 Williams Street, New York, and 14 Queen-Victoria Street, E. C., London, England. Filed its last return in 1907 with the Secretary of State in Maine. Charter suspended in 1909 for non-payment of taxes.

Arizona Belmont Mining Company. Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, in 1911, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, par value $1. Arizona operations were suspended in 1913. On December 13, 1924, 1,500 shares of this stock sold at $1 the lot.

Incorporated in Delaware on November 27, 1917, is no longer in existence, having become inoperative and void March 17, 1929, and proclaimed by the Governor January, 1921, for non-payment of taxes. This company was in existence with offices at 447 Monadnock Bldg., San Francisco, California, and the following were the names of the officers: president, Jas. H. Forman, San Francisco, Calif.; vice-president, John F. Smith, Oakland, Calif.; secretary and treasurer, John C. Wunder, San Francisco, Calif. Directors: W. B. Cheatham, Oakland, Calif.; H. T. Suhr, San Francisco, Calif.; P. R. Rathjen, San Francisco, Calif. The resident agent was the Corporation Trust Company of America, duPont Bldg., Wilmington, Delaware. Property had extensive development and equipment. J. W. Norton was given as president. Geo. F. MacDonald as vice-president and W. W. Knight as secretary-treasurer. American Cereal Syrup Company. The eight per cent. bonds were foreclosed several years ago, and the former bondholders now constitute the owners of the Cereal Syrup Trust in proportion to their various bond holdings. Since the formation of the Cereal Syrup Trust, the Chicago Title & Trust Company has advanced about $100,000 for expenses, taxes, insurance, upkeep of the property, etc., and is now foreclosing a first mortgage against the property. Taxes are in default to the extent of about $15,000. The property has been in the hands of several of the best and most widely known real estate agencies in the city, for sale for several years, but to date a buyer has not been secured. The best offer for the property has been the sum of $100,000, while the property has been offered for sale at $150,000. It is quite certain from the foregoing that the present owners of the property (the former bondholders) cannot by any possibility realize anything on their investment unless some sort of a miracle should happen, as the present property will not bring enough to satisfy the first mortgage and pay the back taxes, other liens, etc.

Groine, general manager. Main office, Patagonia, Santa Cruz County, Arizona. In 1907 this company was reorganized as the Trenton Mining Company, but shortly after the reorganization the property fell into the hands of the bondholders who did not want to entirely wipe out the stockholders, so they brought about a reorganization. It was later reported that more money was needed, but no reports show that this money was ever obtained. At the time of reorganization one share of stock in the new company was given for every five of the old company stock. No trace of either company can be found for many years, and we believe them both out of existence, and its stock worthless.

Had $1,000,000 capital stock, shares $1 par. Office was at Leavenworth, Kansas. Was idle for some years, presumably out of funds and merely keeping up taxes. Reported dead in 1916.

Arizona Metals Corporation, Reno, Nevada. Nevada charter forfeited for non-payment of taxes July 1, 1927.

Arizona-Mexican Mining & Smelting Company. Owned mining properties at Siam, California and Cerbat, Kingman and Florence, Arizona. Was succeeded in 1909 by the Needles Mining & Smelting Co.

Originally owned 139 claims, 3,000 acres of mineral land, located at Hillside, Yavapai County, Arizona, in the Santa Fe mining district, Esmeralda County, Nevada, in Lincoln County, Nevada and in the Coso mining district, Inyo County, California. During 1911, the Arizona property was sold to the Bagdad Copper Co., and its holdings in Lincoln County, Nevada, to the Atlantic Consolidated Gold Mining Co. Was primarily a holding company. Le Compte was given as president and general manager. Equipment included gasoline power and an air compressor. Properties carried argentiferous and auriferous copper and lead ores. Reported dead in 1916.

Arizona Ray Copper Company. Organized in Arizona with an authorized capital stock of $1,000,000, par 10 cents each, of which it is reported 5,000,000 shares were paid the promoters for the mining claims in the Ray district of Arizona. The officers were: W. A. Stuart, president; F. M. Dorsey, vice-president; J. L. Mulligan, secretary. Property was said to consist of 12 claims at Ray, Pinal County, Arizona, considered to be outside the ore zone and valueless. Our old records disclose that the company was exposed and denounced by the California Corporation Commission, by the Mining & Scientific Press and by the New York Tribune. The promoters were apparently driven out of California to Phoenix, Arizona, where its business is said to have been brought out by the Arizona Securities & Trust Company which company we understand was still peddling stock in March, 1917, to 12 cents a share. In July, 1917, the stock was quoted at 2 cents. In about 1919, the name of the Arizona Ray Copper Company was changed to New Arizona Ray Copper Co.

Arizona Southeastern Copper Company. Property and operations not reported. Capital stock $3,000,000. Classed as a stock selling scheme.

Arizona Success Mining Co. Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capitalization of $1,000,000, shares $1 par. B. T. Hickman was president, Austin E. Park, vice-president and Adolph Moltzen, secretary. Property was located at Vicksburg, Yuma County, Arizona, and consisted of the 8 claims situated southeast of Quartzite, formerly held by the Apache Chief Mining Co., and a group of 6 claims in the Plomosa district of Arizona. Lands had quite some development and were said to show ore of good grade. Company claimed to guarantee a dividend of 1½ cents per share on all stock placed at 5 cents per share. Company's operations were not regarded with favor. Has been idle for a number of years and is apparently dead.

Arizona Tip Top Mines Company. The Arizona Tip Top Mines Company was incorporated in Arizona as the successor company to the defunct Tip Top Consolidated Mining Company which was incorporated in 1916 in Arizona to operate the old Tip Top mine about 25 miles south of Prescott, credited with a production of several million dollars in 1875-85 under Haggin, Head & Hearst. The Tip Top Consolidated Mine was examined by G. A. Thayer, who estimated ore worth $792,000 to 300 feet depth and $2,000,000 under water to 800 feet. It was pronounced defunct in 1920 and succeeded by the Arizona Tip Top Mines Company. Capital stock $2,000,000, shares $1 par. The old Tip Top mine was originally developed to an 800-foot level and it was reported that the new company was developing to the 350-foot level and said to have opened up high grade of silver ore. The company, we understand, has only been doing assessment work on the property for several years. The officers of the Arizona Tip Top mine are as follows: J. S. Coupal, president and general manager; George S. Adams, secretary and treasurer, with Carl J. Barth, Jr., S. S. Gunisinl and A. G. Gabriek, directors. The last reported address of the company was, P. O. Box 1209, Boston, Massachusetts. Mine address, Frank Yeager, resident manager, Canon Yavapai Co., Arizona. There have been no quotations of this stock since 1914 and the mine has not been actually producing for several years. Brokers dealing in these shares are A. B. Morley & Company, New York. The Arizona Corporation Commission reports that this company is legally dead, the charter having been revoked by final decree for failure to pay annual registration and report fees on June 21, 1927.

Arizona Tip-Top Mining Company. Claims to own mineral lands located in the Buena Vista District, Pershing County, Nevada. An old property which is said to have had considerable development and production. Traded in on the New York and Boston Curbs and one of the companies extensively advertised as the gamble of the age by L. C. Van Riper and associates who were arrested recently by the Massachusetts authorities on a charge of fraudulent advertising.

Arizona-Tonopah Mining & Milling Company. Incorporated under the laws of Arizona in 1916 with a capital stock of $1,000,000, $1 par; 750,000 outstanding in 1922. Property consisted of approximately 1,050 acres, in Amole district, next to the Tucson and Saginaw mines in Pima County, 9 miles s. w. of Tucson. Company was reported idle MEN often leave behind them quantities of worthless stock certificates. Every occurrence of that kind stresses the need for life insurance. Had they put their faith in insurance, their estates would have had cash in hand when needed.

during 1917. In 1925 it was reported out of existence. Property was taken over by the Buckeye State Mining & Milling Company. The Arizona-Tonopah Mining & Milling Company was not regarded as a favorable investment. We do not locate any quotations of this stock. The last officers were reported to be: James Dixon, president; Alfred Auger, vice-president and secretary; Geo. Aukers, treasurer and general manager; A. J. Harchberger, superintendent. Company office was located at 503 Delta Bldg., Los Angeles, Cal. Mine office at 30 East Congress Street, Tucson, Arizona. A. J. Harshberger, who is president of the Buckeye State Mining & Milling Co. informs us that he took the mining properties of the Arizona-Tonopah over about five years ago, under a judgment that he had against the company. He gave them almost a year to take up the judgment and when they did not do so, had the property sold by the sheriff, bought the property and received a sheriff's deed for the same. He afterwards incorporated the Buckeye State Mining & Milling Company and sold the property to the corporation for half of its capital stock of 1,000,000 shares, par value $1, and still holds the same. 485,000 shares of stock are in the treasury. It is evident that Mr. Harshberger owns almost all the holdings of the old Arizona-Tonopah Mining & Milling Co.'s property. He states that, as far as he knows, the stock is of no value and the company is entirely out of existence.

Incorporated on August 12, 1910, under the laws of Arizona as successor to the Arizona United Mining Company of Delaware with a capital stock of $5,000,000, par value $1. Outstanding $2,500,000. One per cent. quarterly dividends were begun in October, 1916. Company was a close corporation. Treasurer's statements for year 1918 showed total receipts of $208,247, including $161,541 from ore shipments. Disbursements totalled $192,270, including $25,000 paid on purchase of lease from Goodrich-Lockhart Company. Cash on hand, December 31, 1918, $15,976. Property consisted of 45 claims, 30 patented, 900 acres, 7 miles northeast of Oregon, in the Johnson Mining Camp, including the Mammoth, Republic, Copper King and Southern Group. A 10-year lease on the property, given to the Goodrich-Lockhart Company in 1913, was surrendered July, 1918, for $75,000 property reverting to the company for $75,000. During the life of the lease the Arizona United paid all debts, including the mortgage, and distributed $100,000 in dividends from its 45 per cent. of net earnings received. The $75,000 payment to the Goodrich-Lockhart Company was also paid out of royalty under the lease. These earnings came from ore containing 4 per cent. or more copper. During the first six months of 1918, lessees shipped 24,902 tons of ore, with a value of $290,216 and in the last six months the company shipped 18,041 tons, value $174,223 while the Mammoth furnished 2,480 tons of ore, with net smelter value of $38,196. Operations were suspended February 1, 1919, on account of the low price of copper, at which time the company stated it had enough ore blocked out to give a daily output of 200 tons for 60 days. An ore deposit on the Mammoth claim had been opened up by lessees, who continued shipments to the end of 1920. Property was idle 1921-1922. Early in 1923 property was taken under lease by the Arizona United Development Company. The Dragoon Mountain and Mining Company was also taken under lease by this company and active operations began in June, 1923. Judgments totalling $9,000 by former employees resulted in the sale of properties on May 6, 1924, to the Mason Copper Company. On October 22, 1921, 26,965 shares were sold at $70 the lot at auction, and on October 29, 1921, 10,000 shares were sold at $475 the lot. In July, 1922, stock was quoted at 10 cents bid and 20 cents asked. The last quotation being reported on June 2, 1923, according to our records, at 10 cents asked with no bid. In view of the aforementioned circumstances we believe the stock to be practically valueless at the present time.

Arkansas Central Railroad. Seven per cent. bonds issued in 1870, due April 1, 1900, issued to the amount of $1,350,000. Interest April and October. During the reconstruction period of the Arkansas state debt in 1868 to 1870, state bonds to the amount of $5,350,000 were issued in aid of railroad construction, the above mentioned railroad bonds being included in that amount. The acts authorizing these issues were declared unconstitutional and the Supreme Court of the state repudiated these bonds. On appeal to the courts it was also decided that the railroad aid bonds were not a liability of the companies in whose aid they were issued. The matter still rests in that condition. The bonds were deposited with the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York under an agreement dated October 12, 1881, between the bondholders and John R. Dos Passos. In accordance with this agreement, a certain percentage was to be returned to the bondholders in case a settlement was affected, but the plan was not successful and the bonds were returned to the depositors.

Arkansas State (Arkansas Central R. R. Co. 30 Yr. 7% Bonds). Arkansas entered the Union June 15, 1836, and the debt originated in 1837-1838, within two years after her admittance into the Union as a state in aid of two banks. In 1868-1870 the management of the affairs of state being in the hands of those who, by the people of the state were considered "outside adventures," state bonds to the amount of $5,350,000 were issued in the aid of five railroads, viz.: $1,000,000 Little Rock & Ft. Smith R. R. 7's due 1900, interest April and October; $1,200,000 Memphis & Little Rock R. R. 7's due 1899; $1,200,000 Little Rock, Pine Bluff & New Orleans R. R. 7's due 1900; $600,000 Mississippi, Onachita & Red River R. R. 7's due 1900; $1,350,000 Arkansas Central R. R. 30 Yr. 7's dated April 1, 1870 due April 1, 1900, interest April and October. $5,350,000 total outstanding. The state legislature of 1869 passed an act authorizing the loan of the state's credit to railroads. It provided that the railroads should pay the interest on the bonds loaned them, and, in case they defaulted, the state was authorized to take possession of them, and, if need be, to sell them for her reimbursement. Under authority of this act, railroad bonds were issued to the amount of $5,350,000. All the railroads aided defaulted in the payment of interest in 1873, and they were temporarily handed over to receivers appointed at the request of the state treasurer. In May, 1874, the legislature repealed the law authorizing the roads to be put into the hands of receivers and they drifted back into the possession of their original owners, having the state under obligations to pay the interest and principal of the $5,350,000 bonds. As early as 1872 charges of illegality had been made against the railroad aid bonds and on May 3, 1877, a case was brought before the Circuit Court at Little Rock, Ark., which turned upon the validity of the railroad aid bonds, and the decision of the court was that these bonds were unconstitutional and consequently null and void. The basis of the decision was the fact that the election for the purpose of lending the credit of the state, as provided in the act authorizing the bonds, was held before the act went into force and was, in consequence, a nullity. The bonds, therefore, issued under authority of the act were unconstitutional since their issue had not received the "consent of the peoples expressed at the ballot box" as required by the constitution. A constitutional amendment, declaring that the General Assembly should have no power to levy a tax or to make an appropriation to pay interest or principal of the bonds or the claims upon which the railroad aid bonds were based, was submitted to the people September 1, 1884, and adopted by a fair majority. Therefore as the state of Arkansas does not recognize the Arkansas Central Railroad 7 per cent. 30-year bonds dated 1870 and due 1900, we do not attach any market value to the bonds.

metal work on condition of the purchase of $100,000 preferred stock. The Assets Realization Co. became interested through the assumption of the obligation of the United States Metal Products Co. which found itself unable to purchase the stock. Armstrong Electric & Manufacturing Corp. We have received the following letter from the Armstrong Electric & Manufacturing Corp., located at Huntington, West Virginia, in reference to their stock: "Control of the Armstrong Company was purchased approximately two years ago by a small group of prominent bankers and business men of New York City for the purpose of developing the business to a large electrical industrial. The stockholders of the former Armstrong Company were afforded an opportunity to exchange their stock for stock in the new company as were the stockholders of New Era Electric Range Company whose product was also acquired by this group and turned over to the Armstrong Company. There therefore exists through this exchange a few smaller stockholders. However, the syndicate's stock is being held en bloc and the attention of the management is being directed to the development of the corporation and not to any market manipulations or to the creation of any market for the stock of the company at this time." For further information we refer you to the company.

Assets Realization Company. The Assets Realization Company was originally incorporated under the general corporation law of New Jersey on October 26, 1899, for the purpose of dealing in bonds, mortgages, etc. On June 6, 1905, company changed its title to the International Assets Company and on June 12, 1905, this last named company was dissolved by consent of the stockholders. On June 6, 1905, another company bearing the title Assets Realization Company filed its charter with the Secretary of State of New Jersey and on October 19, 1908, this company's title was changed to the United States Realization Company. This last named company was dissolved by action of its stockholders on October 26, 1908, proof of the publication of said certificate of dissolution being filed on November 23, 1908. On October 19, 1908 a new company bearing the title of Assets Realization Company filed its charter with the Secretary of State of New Jersey, which company is the present organization. In 1905 additional capital was acquired to take advantage of available business and accordingly the company was reorganized under the laws of New Jersey on June 6, 1905. In 1908 the scope of the operation of the company having so expanded as to require further working capital, this company was again reorganized, and for this purpose a new company (which is the present company) was formed on October 19, 1908. The capital stock was as follows: $1,009,000 made up of 100 shares of old preferred stock at $100 per share and 99,000 shares of common stock of par value $10. Original authorized amount was $1,000,000: $350,000 7 per cent. 1st preferred, $150,000 7 per cent. 2nd preferred, $500,000 common. Increased in 1905 to $3,000,000: $1,350,000 7 per cent. 1st preferred, $150,000 7 per cent 2nd preferred, $1,500,000 common. Increased in 1908 to $10,000,000: $5,000,000 7 per cent. preferred, $5,000,000 common. Reduced in 1917 to $1,009,000: 100 shares old preferred stock par $100, 99,000 shares common par $10. On December 31, 1913, a creditors' committee was appointed to conserve the assets and to arrange to extend the pressing liabilities of this company and that the Assets Company at this time was started through the process of liquidation under the supervision of the Finance and Trading Corporation. It was the prevailing impression that the principal business of the Assets Realization Company was the purchase and sale of bankrupt and financially embarrassed estates, but during the past years, before the company's trouble, such transactions constituted but a small percentage of the total business, the very large proportion of which had been the promotion and development of more or less hazardous enterprises and the making of loans to individuals and corporations upon terms and under conditions which were reported not acceptable to banks or trust companies. The annual report for the year ending December 31, 1921 (last available), shows a profit and loss deficit of $1,123,890.00. Net deficit for the year, after expenses, interest and taxes amounted to $61,480, as compared with a deficit of $56,165 for 1920. The balance sheet of December 31, 1920 shows cash of $57,900. Notes and accounts receivable, $93,635; investments in stocks and bonds, $625,893; accounts payable, $78,354; accrued interest payable, $448,293. The stock sold on the New York Stock Exchange and in 1911 was selling at 108 high and 106½ low for the year and in 1924 was selling at ⅞ high and ¼ low. There was no market for these shares after 1924 and dividends had not been paid for several years and no interest had been paid on the company's 6 per cent. gold notes since January, 1918. The company was reported dissolved in 1927 and the last officers were as follows: C. D. Inman, president; B. H. N. Noble, secretary and treasurer. Directors: Otis A. Glazebrook, Jr., John A. Beattie, B. M. P. Murphy and C. D. Inman. Company's office was at 52 Broadway, New York. We find record of auction sales on November 20, 1926, of 10 shares of common at $2.50 the lot and 200 shares common at $13 the lot. In view of the dissolution of the company and the deficit represented on annual report of 1921, last available previous to dissolution and auction sales, we submit the stock to be valueless as of October 2, 1927.

Aztec Land & Cattle Co., Ltd. This is a New York corporation founded to take over certain wild lands for liquidation purposes from the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe R. R. Co. The capital stock outstanding is $91,690.00; par $10 each, upon which dividends since organization total $50 a share and for the last four years $5 a share has been paid. The balance sheets as of December 31, 1925, show the following: Assets, total, $828,363.45; liabilities, total, $31,072.88; net assets, $797,290.57; capital stock, $91,690. The land at March 31, 1913, value $512,180.47, represents 310,000 acres of unsold land which an officer of the company estimates has a sale value of not over 50 cents an acre or a total value of $155,000. The dividends being paid at the rate of $5 a share, or 50 per cent. yearly, are large, but represent the distribution of funds realized from the sale of the land. It will undoubtedly be many years before this improved acreage is sold, for which reason the present book value of the stock does not represent the present market value. As of December 31, 1925, the stock was appraised by the company for taxation purposes for $65 a share and the only public sale was at auction in New York on December 26, 1925, when two shares sold for $71 the lot, or $35.50 a share. We are informed that there are no private sales. The assistant secretary of the company, located at 54 Wall Street, New York City, informed us that in the past three years a dividend of $5 a year has been paid out of capital surplus. As far as we know there is no market for the stock except that liquidating dividends will be paid as the company sells their land. Their unsold lands total about 342,000 acres. However, the United States Forestry Department is negotiating with the company for the purchase of approximately 85,000 acres and it is expected to be closed. Fred C. Squire, of 32 Broadway, New York City, will quote bids for the stock on application.

Bailey Cobalt Mines, Ltd. Incorporated under the laws of Ontario on August 15, 1906 with a capital of $5,000,000, shares $1.00 par. Trust & Guarantee Company, Ltd. Toronto, Canada, transfer agent and registrar. In 1914 company being deeply in debt including about $90,000 owing to N. A. Benson, former president, a permanent liquidator was appointed. A protective committee was formed by Buffalo stockholders to protect their interests. It was said that E. A. Benson, former president, and other promoters issued 4,250,000 shares of stock to themselves, retaining 750,000 in the treasury for financing the property. This promotion stock, it is claimed, was disposed of, and the treasury stock remained unsold, with the foregone result of such practice. A reorganization plan was finally worked out which provided that the liquidators transfer the Bailey Mine and its assets to a new company. The Bailey Silver Mines, Ltd., Inc., February 3, 1920. The new company paid the Benson claim of $90,000 and $40,000 for legal expenses in addition to 425,000 shares given Bailey Cobalt stockholders for their property. At a meeting held September 23, 1921, liquidation proceedings were ended, a directorate was elected and authorized to accept the 425,000 Bailey silver shares which it was understood were to be held en bloc. Property and equipment of the Bailey Silver Mines, Ltd., were offered for sale under the Bankruptcy Act on May 31, 1926. Outstanding bonded indebtedness amounted to $110,000. Stock control was held by the Northern Customs Concentrators, Ltd., and 425,000 shares

Bank of Pennsylvania. Incorporated by special act of the assembly on March 30, 1793, under the laws of Pennsylvania. In 1858 was absorbed by the Farmers and Mechanics Bank of Philadelphia which was later converted into the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank of Philadelphia on November 26, 1864. This bank continued in business until August 31, 1918, at which time it was absorbed by the Philadelphia National Bank. The Philadelphia National Bank within recent years merged with the Girard National, the new institution being known as the Philadelphia-Girard National Bank, but operating under the old charter of the Philadelphia National Bank. The Philadelphia-Girard National Bank later merged with the Franklin-Fourth Street National Bank, the resulting institution being known as the Philadelphia National Bank, which is operated under the old original charter of that institution. The following is taken from a "History of Banking in Pennsylvania": "The last chapter in the history of the Pennsylvania Bank, like that of the United States Bank, is a drab and dismal one. The panic of 1857, which staggered the soundest financial institutions, swept the Bank of Pennsylvania into a complete wreckage, its assets tied up in doubtful ventures made insolvency inevitable, due to the speculations and frauds of its officers." The stock is only a curio and is absolutely worthless.

Bank of the United States, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The first comprehensive plan for an incorporated bank in the United States was suggested by Alexander Hamilton, during the Revolutionary War in 1779, but without result, though out of his ideas grew the subsequent organization, formed in 1780 for the purpose of sending supplies to the army. This was popularly known as the "Bank of Pennsylvania," and was the chief reliance in keeping the army equipped in the field until the close of the war, sending its rations and continuing in operation about eighteen months. Robert Morris, "the financier of the Revolution," was at the head of this enterprise. Robert Morris in 1781 submitted to Congress a plan for establishing a national bank which resulted in the charter by Congress on May 26, 1781, of the Bank of North America at Philadelphia, Penn. This was the first incorporated bank in the country. The second was the Bank of Massachusetts at Boston, chartered February 7, 1784, and the third, the Bank of New York at New York, chartered June 9, 1784. Congress chartered the first Bank of the United States at Philadelphia in February, 1791, the charter running twenty years, and for this institution a few years later was erected the building on Third Street, south of Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Penn. When the first Bank of the United States at Philadelphia charter expired in 1811, Congress declined to renew it. The business men of Philadelphia developed a strong sentiment for the renewal of the charter, shown in public meetings held in 1809 and 1810 and the sending of memorials and committees to Congress. There was, also, in portions of the community, a powerful opposition to renewal, and meetings were held by opponents of the bank. The state banks in Philadelphia all favored the extension of the charter, mainly for financial reasons. At a meeting of the joint committees of the state banks held on December 15, 1810, a resolution was adopted declaring that "general distress and inconvenience will attend the cessation of so great monied institution." They also recommended to the directors of the state banks to send a memorial to Congress or to the Pennsylvania Legislature, favoring the renewal of the Bank of the United States at Philadelphia charter, and expressing the opinion "that it cannot be injurious but advantageous to the state institutions." The memorial was transmitted to the legislature, but a larger majority in both houses was opposed to the Bank of the United States, and passed resolutions requesting the Pennsylvania Senators and members of Congress to vote against the renewal of the charter. The result, after a hot controversy, was that Congress declined by a class vote, to renew the charter, and on March 3, 1811, the first Bank of the United States closed its doors and its affairs were wound up. Later in March its trustees sent a petition to the legislature asking for a Pennsylvania charter, but no action was taken. This petition was renewed the next session, but no charter was passed. The liquidation of this greatest bank of the country in those troublous times had a very serious effect upon monetary affairs. During 1810 it began preparations for liquidation by curtailing loans and drawing in balances. When the first Bank of the United States liquidated, it had $5,800,000 specie in its vaults, being almost the entire supply in the country. Out of its capital of $10,000,000 about $7,000,000 was owned abroad and all this had to be sent to Europe to pay off the stockholders in specie, not only taking about all we had, but carrying out of the United States an amount of capital the country then could ill spare. The stock of the first Bank of the United States had been a favorite investment in London, where, at the height of its prosperity in 1802, the Barings had bought the United States Government holdings of over 2,200 shares at 145, the bank having paid 10 per cent. dividends in 1801 and 9 per cent. in 1802. Its shares then sold in London at a higher price than shares in the Bank of England. When the opposition to the renewal of the bank's charter became violent the Barings decided to sell their stock, and Stephen Girard, then the wealthiest man in America, bought it. Stephen Girard's purchase of the Barings' stock made him the largest stockholder in the first Bank of the United States and its principal creditor when it wound up. The second Bank of the United States opened for business in Philadelphia on January 1, 1817. During more than two decades following the war with England, the finances of Philadelphia and of the country were largely dominated by the second Bank of the United States. Such serious financial difficulties had followed the enforced liquidation of the first Bank of the United States and the Government had been so much crippled in raising money to carry on the war, that public opinion again became strongly inclined to the idea of reviving the national bank as a remedy. In April, 1816, Congress chartered the second Bank of the United States, to continue for twenty years, and as the country had grown so much its capital was enlarged to $35,000,000 (the Government holding $7,000,000), compared with the $10,000,000 capital of the first Bank of the United States. Such a gigantic institution for those days soon became an enormous power both in finance and politics and it overshadowed the smaller state banks in Philadelphia. The second Bank of the United States began business in Carpenters' Hall, January 7, 1817, and in April, 1819, the corner stone of its new building was laid on Chestnut Street above Fourth Street and was modeled after the Parthenon at Athens, and later became the Philadelphia Custom House. The Bank of the United States went freely into discounting and particularly in lines which included the notes of certain of its stockholders in Philadelphia and Baltimore, and this curtailed the general use of its capital. Excessive bank loans naturally created alarm, and in the autumn of 1817 a curtailment began, the Bank of the United States enforcing a reduction of about $7,000,000 during October, which produced a severe monetary stringency. Events had been rapidly progressing in fomenting the great quarrel between President Andrew Jackson and the Bank of the United States. This is said to have had its inception in the refusal of President Nicholas Biddle of the bank to remove from the presidency of the branch bank at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the summer of 1829, Jeremiah Mason, who was a friend of Daniel Webster. President Jackson's message to Congress at the opening of the session, the subsequent December, began the attack on the bank. He said that "both the constitutionality and the expediency of the law creating this bank are well questioned by a large portion of our fellow citizens, and it must be admitted by all that it has failed in the great end of establishing a uniform and sound currency." This position taken by the President of the United States then somewhat startled the country, but the matter seems to have slumbered until 1832. The time for the expiration of the Bank of the United States charter in 1836 was approaching and the sentiment in Philadelphia strongly favored its renewal. In February, 1832, the Philadelphia Bank directors sent a memorial to Congress in accordance with this sentiment, asking the passage of an act extending the charter. Congress passed the bill to recharter the bank, but President Jackson on July 10, 1832, vetoed it. This caused great excitement and bitter feeling, a Presidential veto having been practically unknown down to that time. The political animosity grew, and President Jackson determined to remove the Federal deposits from the Bank of the United States, the officials sending circulars in August, 1833, to various state banks, inquiring if they would receive the deposits. On September 18, 1833, President Jackson read to the Cabinet his reasons for the removal of the deposits from the Bank of the United States. He declared the bank had entered politics and used its vast influence in promulgating certain principles which were not those held by the Government; that in sixteen months, ending shortly before the veto, the bank had increased its loans over $28,000,000 with the intention of bringing a large number of people under its influence, a considerable portion of this amount being appropriated for subsidizing the press. For these and other reasons the President declared it was no longer safe to allow the public moneys to remain in possession of the Bank of the United States. October 1, 1833, was named as the day for the withdrawal and great efforts were made on behalf of the Bank of the United States to prevent the removal of the deposits. The deposits, amounting to nearly $8,000,000, were removed from the Bank of the United States and was followed by great public anxiety and a general curtailment of loans by the Bank of the United States, causing serious distress. The quarrel between President Jackson and the Bank of the United States grew, and made the most intense enmities. The efforts to get the deposits restored were fruitless. The President fully controlled Congress against the bank. As the time approached for the expiration of the Bank of the United States charter in 1836 the State of Pennsylvania in February renewed it as a state bank for thirty years, passing the act thirteen days prior to the expiration. It thus went under the state control with the same capital, exclusive of the Government investment of $7,000,000. The new bank paid a good price for the state charter, a bonus to Pennsylvania of $2,000,000, extending over ten years, the money to be used for schools. Nicholas Biddle at once resigned the presidency of the federal bank and was chosen president of the State Bank of the United States, which began business March 4, 1836. When it had gotten fully under way as a state institution, the State Bank of the United States shares were quoted at 125. Business stress and difficulty of retaining specie became so great that on May 10, 1837, the banks of New York City suspended specie payments and the next day the banks of Philadelphia suspended. Efforts were made in 1838 to secure a resumption and in July, 1838, the Governor of Pennsylvania issued a proclamation ordering all the banks to resume. In July, 1839, the State Bank of the United States stock declined to 111. On October 9, 1839, the State Bank of the United States again suspended specie payments and explained that its course was due to embarrassment arising from large balance of foreign exchange against the United States, but the real reason was that the bank was really insolvent. The great effort after 1839 was to compel the banks to resume specie payments; the obstacle was the inability of the State Bank of the United States to do so. The Legislature passed a drastic law, directing resumption of specie payments by banks, January 15, 1841, under penalty of forfeiture of their charters. Then began various movements designed to sustain the State Bank of the United States, so as to secure a successful resumption at the time appointed. The other banks of Philadelphia loaned the State Bank of the United States about $5,000,000. On October 24, 1840, the State Bank of the United States was notified that the $5,000,000 was available and replied that it would be sufficient for the purpose of resumption. On January 14, 1841, the day before the date fixed for the resumption, the State Bank of the United States made a further most unexpected demand upon the Philadelphia banks, that, in addition to all the money already advanced, they should take a further sum in sterling bills, without which additional help it could not resume. This was most reluctantly acceded to and the resumption came, but it was with universal public distrust that the banks could maintain their position. The State Bank of the United States had about $2,171,000 specie and over $11,270,000 notes out. The stock had declined to 63 and when the doors opened January 15, 1841 there was a brisk demand for specie. This continued for three weeks, and it got all the specie it could from every possible source and in that time had paid out $6,683,321 in gold and silver and on February 4, 1841, the stock was quoted down to 45¾. The State Bank of the United States could stand the pressure no longer and on February 4, 1841, stopped paying coin on any notes above $5.00. The scheme was at that time adopted of marking checks "good" instead of paying them. On February 13, 1841, the State Bank of the United States memorialized the Legislature for relief, saying they had honestly attempted to carry out the resumption law. There was nothing done specially for the bank, however, except an authorization to the bank to make an assignment for the benefit of creditors. A committee of shareholders examined its condition during the Spring of 1841 and reported on impairment of capital of about $2,000,000. Suspended debts showed a loss of over $5,000,000 depreciation in stocks over $7,000,000 and over $3,000,000 due by the State banks were uncollectible. Foreign exchange had been steadily against the country, and in this way, for years, the "Exchange Committee," a sort of inside power, had been piling up foreign loans, chiefly due in England and France, which had reached over $23,000,000. The "Exchange Committee" had transactions in cotton, exported through Philadelphia to Liverpool, amounting to $9,000,000 and this and much else was done without the knowledge of the directors. It was afterwards learned that the State Bank of the United States had lost about $2,000,000 in the cotton operations. The developments caused universal surprise and the greatest consternation among the stockholders, who found their shares unsaleable and dividends ceasing reduced many who had been wealthy to a condition of poverty. The end came on September 4, 1841, when the State Bank of the United States made its assignment. The assignees were a long time winding up its affairs. The bank notes and deposits were paid in full, but the stockholders lost everything, and the last quotation recorded for the stock was 1⅞ in 1843.

Batoplis Mining Company, The. Incorporated under the laws of New York on October 13, 1887, as a consolidation of the following companies which were organized under New York laws for the purpose of carrying on the business of mining silver and other ores, and reducing the same and extracting silver and other minerals therefrom and transacting all business connected with such mining and incidental thereto. Capital stock: The Consolidated Batopilas Silver Mining Company, $3,000,000; The New Ciral Silver Mining Co. of New York, $50,000; The Descubridora Consolidated Silver Mining Company, $3,000,000; The Camuchin Consolidated Silver Mining Company; $1,000,000; The Valenzuela Consolidated Silver Mining Company, $1,000,000; The Animas Silver Mining Company, $1,000,000. Company began business in 1887, immediately upon incorporation, and purchased all the properties of the following companies: The Consolidated Roncesvalles Silver Mining Company, $500,000; The Santa Maria Silver Mining Company, $1,000,000; The Penasquito Silver Mining Company, $1,000,000; The Consolacion Silver Mining Company, $500,000. Against the acquisition of the foregoing ten companies, with an aggregate capital of $12,050,000, The Batopolis Mining Company issued $7,050,000 of its capital stock. The company also purchased the properties of the Charcas Syndicate and properties known as "Ballinas," et al., at an aggregate cost of $1,950,000. The company's property is situated around the town of Batopolis, in the Andres de Rio mining district, in the southwestern part of the State of Chihuaima, Mexico. A concession from the Mexican Government was granted April 12, 1886, to Alexander R. Shepherd for a period of twenty years, covering an area of 61 square miles of what is stated to be the richest mineral district in and about Batopolis, together with all the water rights of the Batopolis River. This concession was assigned to The Batopolis Mining Company and such assignment was confirmed by the Mexican Congress. It expired in May, 1906, and was renewed by the Government for a period of ten years. This extension gives the company full mining rights over the area mentioned, the company being required to purchase outright at least 100 hectares (247 acres) per annum. According to the annual report for the year ending December 31, 1912 (the latest issued) the company at the commencement of 1912 had received titles from the Mexican Government in the concession or native silver zone for 865.3306 hectares or 2,137 acres and had presented for titulation the maps of 103.2218 hectares or 225 acres, making a total of 968.5524 hectares or 2,392 acres. In the auriferous zone, about 20 miles up the Batopolis, the company had been granted titles for 64.0290 hectares or 158 acres and had presented for titulation the maps of 93.0706 hectares or 229 acres. In all 157.0996 hectares or 387 acres. The company is also reported to own about 130,000 acres of ranch and timber land. Capital stock: Authorized, $9,000,000; outstanding, $8,931,980; par, $20. Dividends: A dividend of 12½ per cent was paid December 31, 1907. Prior to consolidation about $1,000,000 was paid in dividends by antecedent companies during the years 1880 to 1887. Market (New York Stock Exchange)—High: July 5, 1907, $11; March 26, 1908, $5; June 30, 1909, $5½; January 5, 1910, $3½; January 27, 1911, $2⅛; April 16, 1912, $2⅞; January 17, 1913, $1⅝; February 18, 1914, $1¼; December 9, 1915, $4½; January 5, 1916, $3⅝; September 22, 1917, $2¼; November 15, 1918, $2⅜; May 13, 1919, 2⅛; January 5, 1920, $1⅜; January 13, 1921, $1; March 24, 1922, $1½; August 31, 1923, $0⅝; January 17, 1924 to May 1, $0¼. Low: November 30, 1907, $1½; January 23, 1908, $2½; January 29, 1909, $2⅞; September 28, 1910, $2; August 25, 1911, $1¼; March 23, 1912, $0⅞; January 14, 1913, $1; April 24, 1914, $0½; February 5, 1915, $0½; June 27, 1916, $1⅜. June 20, 1917, $0⅞; January 23, 1918, $1; January 20, 1919, $1¼; August 20, 1920, $0½; August 26, 1921, $0¼; December 14, 1922, $0¼; August 2, 1923, $0⅛; January 2, 1924 to May 1, $0⅛. Stock was removed from the New York Stock Exchange during April, 1924, the last sale being at ⅜ on April 3, 1924. The following sales of stock have been made at auction: February 16, 1927, 300 shares, $11 the lot; December 30, 1927, 200 shares, $9 the lot. Funded Debt: $366,500. Outstanding (authorized $1,500,000) 15 year first mortgage 6 per cent. gold coupon bonds dated December 1, 1887, interest payable June and December 1st, at the American Exchange-Irving Trust Company of New York, New York, trustee. Prior to maturity, December 1, 1902, the bonds were all extended to December 1, 1907 (except $1,400, the holders of which were unknown); again extended to December 1, 1917, and again to December 1, 1927; interest paid to June 1, 1918. Of the $1,500,000 authorized amount, $540,300 were held by the company, $91,800 have been retired and cancelled and $366,500 held by the public. In September, 1923, it was reported that over 94 per cent. of the bonds had been deposited with the trustee and that foreclosure proceedings were authorized. In June, 1921, the bonds sold privately at 25 per cent. flat and in November, 1919, there was an auction sale at 25 per cent. flat. In November, 1926, the certificates of deposit were offered at 20 per cent., no bids. Officers: F. D. Merchant, president; W. M. Brodie, vice-president; L. H. Scott, treasurer; E. W. A. Jorgensen, secretary. Office: 154 Nassau St., New York City. Remarks: Political conditions in Mexico have not been conducive to profitable operations and on several occasions the principals had to leave the country. From time to time it was necessary to extend the maturity of the first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds and of the $366,500 bonds outstanding $354,700 are deposited with the Chase National Bank of the City of New York in accordance with an agreement dated January 26, 1923. During 1925 the bondholders committee endeavored to sell the mine but was not successful in finding a purchaser. As stockholders would not consent to an assessment of $30 a share to provide working capital a few of the principal stockholders organized the Batopilas Leasing Corporation, and gave the old stockholders an opportunity to subscribe for the stock at $10 a share. The leasing company is now operating the mines on a royalty basis of 5 per cent. of the gross value of the bullion and such monies received are being applied in reduction of loans made to the bondholders committee and expenses incurred. After the obligations mentioned are provided for, we understand interest on the first mortgage bonds is to be paid. As the royalties so far have hardly averaged $175 per month, progress is likely to be very slow.

LIFE Insurance is an investment that is sure never to lose value. And for a relatively small sum, it creates an ample estate for wife, children or other dependents—long before the slow process of accumulation could do it.

Bergner & Engel Brewing Company. Mr. I. Smith Raspin was appointed receiver for this company in 1928. It is expected that the account of the receivers will be filed sometime this Fall. It will show barely nothing for distribution amongst the creditors and we understand the claims are very large and there will be nothing for the stockholders. We understand that the bonds have all been discharged by the suit under the mortgage and the only possibility of the bondholders participating would be in the event of the trustee making a collection on account of the deficiency judgment. It appears that would be very slight and of practically no value to the security holders. Mr. Smith Raspin is located at 1404-1405 Franklin Trust Building, 15th and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia.

Berks County Railroad Company. Company was organized about 1871, in Pennsylvania, to construct a line of road from Reading to Slatington, Pennsylvania, 44½ miles. Construction was begun about 1872 and completed in July, 1874. The Berks County Railroad had a capital stock of $200,000 and $1,500,000. First mortgage 7 per cent. bonds due November 1, 1902. On December 5, 1874, the road was sold at sheriff's sale and reorganized as the Reading & Lehigh Railroad, the Berks County Railroad, first mortgage 7 per cent. bonds due November 1, 1902, remaining undisturbed. On March 1, 1875, the Reading & Lehigh Railroad was leased for 99 years to the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, under an agreement by which the latter company paid to the former the entire net profit from the operations of this line of road. In 1879, the Reading & Lehigh Railroad Company was sold under foreclosure and became the property of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, and thereupon the Schuylkill & Lehigh Railroad was organized on June 14, 1880. to take title to the property. Under the reorganization that took place at that time Schuylkill & Lehigh Railroad, 20 year bonds dated May 1, 1878, bearing interest at the rate of 3, 4, 5 and 6 per cent. for the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and subsequent years respectively, were issued at the rate of $600, for each $1,000. Berks County Railroad Company, first mortgage 7's due November 1, 1902. At the time of the reorganization it was stated that $586,600 of the new bonds had been exchanged for the old Berks County Railroad and that the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, owned $444,000 of the latter bonds. On April 11, 1883, the Schuylkil and Lehigh Railroad was leased for 999 years to the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad; the rental being 4½ per cent. on the Schuylkill and Lehigh Railroad, first mortgage bonds and 6 per cent. on the capital stock and by the terms of the lease the said first mortgage bonds were reduced from $1,000,000 to $600,000 and the interest on same at 4½ per cent. The Reading Company now operates the property formerly held by the Berks County Railroad and pledged under the latter company's first mortgage. The Reading Company now informs us that there does not appear to have been any provision made for undeposited bonds of the Berks County Railroad at the time of the reorganization of 1879-1880. The records of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia show that there were $540,865.50 of overdue coupons outstanding at the time of the sale of the property under foreclosure proceedings on September 23, 1879. The property was sold by M. Thomas and Sons, auctioneers, at the Merchants' Exchange, Philadelphia, to John N. Hutchinson for $200,000. After deducting certain expenses, the Court directed a distribution to the bondholders of 32.76 per cent. on account of the amount of the overdue coupons. Not all of the overdue coupons were presented, for we find that on January 4, 1881 the court directed the trustees to distribute the balance on hand, amounting to approximately $12,872.59 among the hoders of coupons who had previously presented their coupons for payment. This made an extra distribution of 2.38 per cent. Therefore, any of the first mortgage bonds, or any of the overdue coupons, outstanding after January 4, 1881, could not participate in the proceeds of the sale of the property under the foreclosure proceedings.

Outstanding $15,000,000, par $5. No funded debt. No dividends had been paid since commencement of business. On May 29, 1920, stockholders ratified sale of entire properties of the company and subsidiary companies to the Boston-Montana Corporation which was incorporated on April 29, 1920 with a capital stock of $25,000,000 with a par value of $25 each share. New company also had a funded debt of $5,000,000 10-year gold 6 per cent. bonds dated March 1, 1922, and due March 1, 1932. One share of the Boston Montana Corporation was then exchanged for 10 shares fo the old Montana Developing Company stock and stockholders not desiring to avail themselves of the exchange offer could deposit their stock with the New England Trust Company of Boston, not later than September 1, 1920, and receive $1 per share for their holdings. This new company defaulted in the interest of their 6 per cent. bonds, due September 1, 1922, and a receiver was subsequently appointed on January 13, 1923. Under reorganization plan of May 31, 1924 property was sold and a new company called the Boston Montana Mining Company was organized in January, 1925. Under reorganization plan, security holders of the Boston-Montana Corporation were requested to deposit their bonds and stocks on or before July 1, 1924, if they wished to participate in the reorganization. Holders of stock in the Boston-Montana Corp. or the Boston Montana Development Company (or of trust certificates therefor issued by trustees) were entitled to participation warrants by depositing stock on or before July 1, 1924, and depositing 10 cents for each share of the Boston-Montana Corporation or for each 10 shares of the Boston-Montana Development Company as subscription to new securities. Stockholders received 1 share of new stock for each share of Boston-Montana Corporation or for each 10 shares of Boston-Montana Development Company (or trust certificates therefor deposited) deposited under the plan. Holders of the certificates of deposit for the bonds of the Boston-Montana Corporation received bonds of the new company equal to 50 per cent. of the face value of the bonds deposited under plan. New bonds to bear interest from date of issue and provide for payment of the first three coupons in cash or in series "B" notes, at the option of the new company. In readjustment plan and agreement dated May 10, 1927 of the Boston-Montana Mining Corporation and Allied Companies, holders of securities of these companies (under deposit agreement dated February 1, 1927) were requested to deposit their holdings on or before June 10, 1927, in order to participate in the readjustment plan. On payment of 15 cents for each share, as specified in the plan, holders of the capital stock of the Boston Montana Mining Company received share for share in common stock. Holders of the first mortgage bonds due March 1, 1945 (which were exchanged for 6 per cent. bonds of the Boston-Montana Corporation for 50 per cent. of face value of deposited bonds) received the principal of their bonds in preferred stock at $1 per share and interest from September 1, 1926 to September 1, 1927 in preferred stock at $1 per share.
